smouldering ruins, piles of brick and mortar, smeaking timbers, masses of crumbling walls and broken columns, mingled with fragments am piles of scorched and now worthless goods, in such quantities as to make the heart sick and sad. We believe that no conflagration, no calamity by fire, so extensive and so dreadful, has befallen any city in the world. It has been an awful hour for Chicago and for the country. We can neither describe the grandeur of the spectacle, nor its terrors, nor the descript in this matter he stands pledged the spectacle, nor its terrors, nor the desolation. The arm of man was powerless, and many who retired to their pillows in siliusnes, were bankrupts on awakening. This terrible calamity will be recognized in every department of trade. Insurance companies, first feeling the shock, will call in their loans and curtail operations. Esstern banks, that furnished capital to Chicago tradesmen, will be subjected to heavy losses, and their deposits and loans in the West and South withdrawn, Cradesmen of New York and Boston will ouffar incaicniable losses, and even here the reactionary force of the fearful disaster that has befallen the great city of the Northwest will have its unfortunate esults. But these commercial evils are observeral. The resources of a city, or the shores of a great lake, having con less converging rallways and in the midst of a country rich in all the elements of vigerous prosperity, are as indestructible as they are boundless. While the poor and unfortunate of Chicago must endure untold woes through the coming winter, the city itself will only derive fresh vigor from the pressure of disaster, and another Chicago, within the next two years, will ty, splendor and in every element of solid BYRD,

We are told that there is a "touch of nature which makes all the world akin," and the misfortunes that have overtaken Chicago have made the unfortunate sui- BYRD ferers our brothers and sisters. The no ble manner in which the people of the United States have railied to the relief of the distressed has renewed our faith in humanity. A deep and abiding sympathy with the sufferers is universally felt throughout the country. Desolation, carried to the families and hearts of thor sands; but the speedy appropriations for rolled will prevent suffering either from hunger or cold.

RADICAL RASCALITY.

A Characteristic Piece of Corruption and Tyranny Combined Exposed.

Dear Appeni-Within the last few days we have had perpetrated upon us the at monstrons piece of rescality that the annals of New Gate, or even reconstruc-tion, can farmish. But for the timely in terposition of Governor Alborn, it would have been a perfect success in all its vil lamous details, as it was irreparable mis-chief has been scoomplished. The whole affair, when considered togather, has so chief has been accomplished. The whole affair, when considered together, has so many concentrations of corruption and resemity cropping out from every intuition of their scheme that I acarely know where to take hold of the case. You must know in the first place, so as to understand the following ever-true tale, that Gov. Alcorn lately made a pilgrimage to the Radical Mecca, and from the best information we can get, distinctly stated to the lieutenant-governor before he started, that he carried the bureau of pardon in one of his breeches pockets, and that of removals in the other—the two mighty engines of Radical power. This preconsion appears to have been born of his experience on a former absence from Jackson, where the acting governor issued pardons for all sorts and orders. Whon Alcorn came back, he raised oid Harry about it, and on this trip proposed to flank the lieutenant-governor, by carrying these two patent engines in the pockets of the said unmentionables. Well, then, it is further necessary for you to remomber that our old friend, Goal Oil Charite, was plning in durance vile in our jail, and was plaing in durance vite in our jail, and sighing for the time when he could snot the breezes tainted by the ungodly K. K. 's again, and rage a sanguinous warfars upon them on the free heaths of Missisapon them on the free heaths of Missis-sippi. And also to bear in mind the fact that this county is strongly Democratic, notwithstanding the garry-mandering of the legislature in the for-mation of the county, and with these facts before you, I will proceed to unfold and expose this last Radical complracy. The first step in the execution of the plot, was the baffing of this wretch, Weissier. This was done by the lieutenant governor of the has step in the execution of the plot, was the bailing of this weeks, Weissier. This was done by the lieutenant governor of the State, while acting governor, by leaving his capital city and a great State without an executive head, excepting the one girating around the county, and coming to Corinth, bringing along his boon companion, the bleeding Huggins, and offering bond in the amount fixed by Judge Daris, upon the hearing of Weissier's petition for habess corpus, with himself and this pluk-eyed beauty, Huggins, sy bondamen, and so Weissier was himse if again, and staiked our streets with if se erect, defiant bearing as the conqueror of a thousand condices. The shariff who approved the band, asked at the line it was presented, what was the use of giving bond now when the circuit court would open its assession in a few day's, and of giving bond now when the circuit court would open its assession in a few day's, and received some careless, evasive reply. We saster discipeared, fluggins and Powgers disto; and the next step in the p tot was, our sheriff's official head rolls A in the dust, notwithstanding the fact that this officially dreaded gulloutine was in brother Alcora's pecket, in Washir acton. Powers had improvised a "mer allowed." owers had improvised a "mer chine" at anapped off a head an beaus fully as he old and tested instrument. This c the old and tested instrument. This co-courred on September 28th; our circuit court met on the fire. very swkward and uneaviable situation for an honest or even consistent man, for try his act in this matter he stands pledged to reprieve and pardon the man if he comes before him under the penalties imposed by a court upon a verdict of conviction. But when we look deeper into the case, we are moved with profound astonishment that such a thing can be attempted upon a free people in the noon-day of civil power, and the perpetrators go unwhipped of lustice.

Our to-be governor has discovered a new past in the play of life-political. He trots out Hamles's ghost in a side-splitting farce. Verily, the times are changing when such things are not put down by the mighty power of a great, universal indignation.
